Insource Co., Ltd. (hereafter referred to the Company), which supports solving organizational issues by “education” and “IT”, is pleased to announce that the cumulative number of online On-Site Trainings and Open Seminars reached 10,490, with 257,691 cumulative attendees, from April 1, 2020 to June 30, 2021.

We believe the following three factors are essential for the success of our online trainings:

(1) A wide variety of trainings (2) Fun-filled online interactions (3) A large number of online studios

(1) A wide variety of trainings to meet various needs – with more than 3000 contents

Almost any trainings for different positions or themes can be conducted online. Despite of more than 3000 contents available, we continue to develop more than 20 new ones every month including trainings shown below:

<Example of new trainings>

- Learn from Eiichi Shibusawa how to be ambitious and break through in an era of uncertainty
- Training for RPA/Power Automate Desktop(2 days)

(2) Fun-filled online interactions -Retains the advantages of face-to-face training

Even the training is conducted online, it retains the advantages of face-to-face and creates the atmosphere online. The trainer stands in front of the whiteboard, writes on the board, and gives the live training, which makes attendees feel excited and have the sense of enjoyment.

(3) A large number of online booths.

Since mid-April of last year, we shifted the focus of our training to online, and have conducted a large number of online training using Open Seminar’s rooms. In addition, in April 2021, we opened the "Insource Omori Studio," a studio dedicated to online trainings. As of the end of July 2021, we can conduct online trainings in more than 80 online booths nationwide (52 of which are Insource Omori Studios).

We will continue to provide a large number of online training and contribute to career development education for companies and organizations under the Coronavirus crisis.
